WATER AND WASTEWATER LEADERSHIP CENTER

LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT EXPERIENCE

2007 ALUMNI PROGRAM

Leadership Center Training – For the Leaders of Today and Tomorrow

As alumna of the Residential Leadership Center Program, you have proven your commitment to utility management, but in this ever-changing industry you need to stay ahead of the curve. Reconnect with fellow classmates and faculty; while you further sharpen your professional skills with accelerated course work, high caliber networking, and further defined leadership assessment. Students will:

- Engage in facilitated discussions on the challenges and opportunities facing the industry
- Strategize with their peers on the future of utility management
- Increase their focus on results, productivity and higher levels of achievement
- Broaden their ability to lead change through innovation and strategic thinking
- Advance their knowledge of organizational leadership through teamwork
- Expand their understanding of the changing global economic environment
- Strengthen their negotiation skills and investment strategies
- Sharpen their ability to make decisions and lead confidently and effectively

Who Should Attend?

Graduates of the Leadership Center are invited and encouraged to attend a 2 1/2 day Leadership Development Experience, after completing the initial 12 day program. Alumni that are unable to attend the program directly following their Leadership Center graduation are welcome to attend in subsequent years.

Core Leadership Strategies are Strengthened Through:

- Utility business assessment
- Self-awareness and assessment
- Re-evaluation of individual action plans
- Further examination of challenges facing public utilities in the future
- Discussion of water and wastewater industry topics

"Kenan-Flagler gave me the inspiration and pathway to become an effective leader of people as opposed to just being a technical manager of issues. It helped me tap into and help develop the energy and creativity of my staff."
